

MURDER INTERNATIONAL

PRESENTS

THE MIDAS TOUCH

Welcome to an evening of MURDER and INTRIGUE provided by
MURDER INTERNATIONAL

Sir William Thorndyke, has over the years, squandered all his family wealth on high living. Last year he was so broke that he contemplated selling up, paying off his debts and moving out of Thorndyke Manor. The only place he and his wife, Lady Avis, would be able to afford was a rented flat.

Tonight Sir William has invited you to dinner, as he wishes you to celebrate his financial U-Turn with him. It is one year to the day that Sir William miraculously came in to a lot of money, paid off his debts and his wealth is still growing.

Where did all the money come from?

What has Bruce got in his suitcase?

Why is Monty called Pikey?

Why is the reporter asking prying questions?

Monty Poole will be here tonight as well as Bruce Stokes the grounds man at the Manor, Bruce has suggested that you might want to buy some of his merchandise.

Pearl Stokes the housekeeper will also be running a small competition. (What would you like to turn into gold). So think of something that would be your ultimate desire and put it down on the paper provided by us.

If you arrive after 7:30pm, the play will be underway and you may miss some very interesting revelations.
