Money: Money: Money

Welcome to an evening of MURDER and INTRIGUE provided by MURDER INTERNATIONAL

Tonight is a celebration of one year to the day that Miss Maureen Cotes, a mature lady, won £10 million on the lottery and went on her very first holiday abroad with her friend Agnes Burton. Whilst Maureen was on holiday she met and fell in love with Lorenzo Martini, whom she intends to introduce to everybody tonight.

Who is Angela?

What will be the earth shattering announcement?

Why is June angry?

Who is the worm?

Barry Saunders, Maureen's friend has suggested that you might want to come along in fancy dress. Whoever is wearing the most inventive and original holiday outfit could win a prize. So let your imagination run wild, don't hire costumes just see what is in your wardrobe.

June Clarke, Maureen's sister is also running a small competition. (What would you spend £10 million on). Simply jot down your answer on the form provided by us and the funniest will win a prize.

If you arrive after 7:30, the play will already be underway and you may miss some very interesting revelations.
