

Murder International Presents

The Society of the Patron Saint

Welcome to an evening of MURDER and INTRIGUE provided by MURDER INTERNATIONAL

Tonight is the annual St Georges day celebration. Normally The Fellowship holds its dinners each year at the Grange in the village of Meadows St George, where it is believed that the local church (St George in the Meadows) is the real site where the dragon was slain. Sir Norman Turnbull, the chairman of The Fellowship has decided to hold the dinner at a larger venue this year.

Mary Turpin will be here tonight, so if you need a herbal potion or wish to catch up on the local gossip, I'm sure she will be more than ready to accommodate you.

Delilah Platts, The Fellowship Secretary has suggested that you may like to enter a competition to choose an apt name for the Dragon that was slain by St George. Simply jot down your answer on the paper provided by us and the most amusing and imaginative answer will win a small prize.

We find that it adds to your enjoyment to become fully involved in the theme by imagining you are one of The Fellowship members attending tonight's dinner, or you could have been invited by a member, the choice is yours.

If you prefer enjoy the evening in a less dramatic way, just sit back and relax.
